A personal message from SOPHIE
My motivation for being a Cryos International donor

"Everything started with some friends that for years was suffering with no success in realize their dream to become a mother. What I felt and I know it from the bottom of my heart is that a baby will make love stronger, day shorter, nights longer, home happier, the past forgiven, and the future worth living for.

Making the decision to have a child is one of the biggest decisions in life. It is to decide forever to have your heart go working around outside your body. Here, a baby has a special way of adding joy in any single day. So, this is the main reason I won’t share and celebrate this miracle and amazing experience with you. I really wish you the happiest family because you deserve it."
